BAKER INLAY GOLDS

An inlay is such a delicate casting; so much depends upon its reproduction of every detail of the cavity and its ability to stand up to the work it has to do, that we have devoted much research to finding just the right alloy for every case. The result is:

INLAY SOFT For all cases subject to little or no stress. Complies with A. D. A. Specification No. 5 for Type A.

INLAY MEDIUM For fairly deep cavities and slight masticating stress. Conforms to A. D. A. Specification No. 5 for Type B.

INLAY HARD For $\frac{3}{4}$ and full crowns, abutments and pontics. Complies with A. D. A. Specification No. 5 for Type C.

INLAY EXTRA HARD For inlays, abutments and bridges. Even very thin castings resist unusual stress. Produced in anticipation of A. D. A. Specification for Type D.

INLAY WHITE Medium hard. Has working qualities of Inlay Hard. For inlays and abutments.

New Officers of Chicago Dental Society to Be Installed at May Monthly Meeting

The new officers and directors of the Chicago Dental Society will be installed at the regular Monthly Meeting to be held at the Stevens Hotel on Tuesday, May 20. President William I. McNeil will install Dr. Glenn E. Cartwright as president, Dr. Christian Davidson as vice-president, Dr. Harold W. Op-pice as secretary and Dr. Leo W. Kremer as treasurer. Members of the Board of Directors for Englewood and North Suburban branches will also be installed at the May meeting. Dr. Willis J. Bray will assume the office of president-elect and be installed as president in May, 1942.

ELECTION

The annual election of officers for the Society took place on April 15 at the Monthly Meeting. There was no contest as only one slate had been presented by petition. The Secretary was instructed to cast a unanimous ballot for the officers nominated. With but one exception all of the newly elected officers have previously held office in the Chicago Dental Society. Dr. Willis

J. Bray, the new president-elect, has previously served as secretary; Dr. Harold W. Op-pice becomes secretary after serving as treasurer; Dr. Leo W. Kremer assumes the treasurership after two years as secretary. Dr. Davidson served on the Board of Directors for three years and will retire in May, 1942 from the Executive Council of the Illinois State Dental Society.

The By-Laws of the Society (Article XII, Section 7) state that "all officers and directors shall be installed in office at the regular May meeting of this Society after their election, but shall not assume the duties of their respective offices until the first day of June following their installation. The President-Elect shall be installed as President at the regular meeting of this Society in the month of May of the year following his election."

PRESIDENT

The new president, Dr. Glenn E. Cartwright, is a member of the Northwest Side Branch and a graduate of Northwestern University Dental School, class of 1918. He was born in Payne, Ohio, in August 8, 1891, and received his preliminary education at Ohio Wesleyan and Northwestern Universities.

In his branch society Dr. Cartwright was elected president in 1929 after holding many committee and elective positions. He is also a member of Alpha Tau Omega and Xi Psi Phi fraternities. A few years ago he served a term as a member of the Executive Council of the Illinois State Dental Society.

Dr. Cartwright brings to the office of the presidency a wide experience in dental administration and a known ability for enlisting cooperative effort of all for the advancement of the Society and the profession.

served as a member of the General Arrangements, Clinic, Reception, Press, Study Club, Dental Economics and Public Relations committees.

Dr. Davidson's branch society is Kenwood - Hyde Park which he joined in 1917. He has held many positions there including the chairmanship of the Program and Hobbies committees; he also served as chairman of the Board of Directors

He has also been a member of the following branch committees: Program, Reception, Membership, Attendance, Business Management, Public Service, Hobbies, Sports and Pastimes. A.M.A. Is Convicted of Conspiracy to Violate Sherman Anti-Trust Act

Effect of Decision, Which Will Be Appealed, Is to Call Practice of Medicine a "Trade"

The American Medical Association was convicted on April 4 of charges of violating the Sherman Anti-Trust Act. A Federal District Court jury, after deliberating twelve hours on the case, freed the eighteen individual defendants but convicted both the A.M.A. and the Medical Society of the District of Columbia. Among the individuals not convicted were most of the major officers of both the national and the district society.

The effect of the decision against the A.M.A. was to place the legal definition of a "trade" on the practice of medicine. If it were not, as defense attorneys argued, the Sherman Anti-Trust Act could not apply and convictions could not be secured on the grounds of restraint of trade. It was understood that the adverse decision would be appealed immediately by A.M.A. attorneys to the District of Columbia Court of Appeals and then, if necessary, to the Supreme Court of the United States.

STATEMENT

Following the decision Dr. Morris Fishbein, editor of the official Journal of the American Medical Association and one of the defendants in the case said that "Regardless of the verdict the A.M.A. will continue to do its utmost for the prevention and treatment of disease and the improvement of the public health." Besides Dr. Fishbein some of the others acquitted were: William D. Cutter, Roscoe G. Leland, Olin West and William Woodward, all officials of the Association. Previous to the conviction the trial judge had ordered the dismissal of charges against two other medical societies. Sentences will be imposed within a short time. The convicted societies are liable to fines not to exceed $5,000.00 each.

The charges of conspiracy to violate the trust law arose out of relations of the A.M.A. and other medical societies with the Group Health Association, a cooperative organization of government employees who pay a fixed fee for medical advice and service. The indictment was returned in 1939 and Association attorneys immediately contended that the practice of medicine was not a "trade" in the definition of the trust law. Justice James M. Proctor, who also presided at the trial which resulted in conviction, first ruled in 1939 that the indictments were invalid on this count. The Court of Appeals subsequently reversed Judge Proctor's decision and the Supreme Court refused to review this action and the case proceeded to trial.

INSTRUCTIONS

In instructing the jury at the end of the eight-week trial, Judge Proctor stated that the evidence must be weighed against each individual separately. He told the jury that individual physicians had the right to refuse consultation or assistance asked by the physicians of Group Health, and also that they had the right of "legitimate criticism" either separately or by collective effort." The jury, however, held that the societies, but not the individuals, had interfered with the operations of Group Health in violation of the anti-trust law.

Considerable interest and importance attaches to the eventual outcome of this suit. If medical practice is held to be a "trade" it is almost certain that the practice of dentistry will be construed in similar fashion. The permanent influence of an adverse final decision upon the work of professional societies can only be guessed at the present time but it is likely that many changes will be necessary.

State Moves to Extend Deferment of Dental Students Under Draft Act

A.D.A. Acts on Commissions for Drafted Dentists by Urging Support of Murray Bill in Senate

While the state of Illinois moved to extend the deferment of dental students who are eligible for military training under the Selective Service Act, the deputy national director of the act took an opposite stand and indicated that the blanket deferment of students until July 1 might not be continued after that date. This stand against deferment of students was opposed by a resolution passed by the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools. The Association stated that a refusal to defer students will cause "the nation to suffer a permanent loss of informed and competent citizenship."

The selective service board, of which Paul G. Armstrong is director, moved toward deferment of dental students in a statement sent to local draft boards throughout the state. It indicated that dental service for both civilian and military populations must be maintained and that this would be increasingly difficult in the face of an already diminished enrollment in the dental schools of the country. A further curtailment of trained dental personnel through the drafting of dental students before they had completed their courses would, the statement indicated, make this situation more serious.

HERSHEY

Brigadier General Lewis Hershey, deputy national director of the Selective Service Act, told the educators present at the annual meeting of the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools that "the army needs young men who have been educated for leadership. Too many educators and young men have somehow got the feeling that going into service is a sacrifice. The opposite attitude is needed.

"The clause giving blanket deferment to high school and college boys," he continued, "was enacted last September, at a time when schools were beginning a new year. The service did not have sufficient housing to accommodate these young men, had they been called. But now the service has the facilities."

Previous to Hershey's address the Association's resolution had been passed and stated that it was in the best interests of national preparedness for the policy of deferment of students to be extended.

"If the present provision is not extended," said an Association official, "many thousands of youths will be withdrawn every year from educational institutions at inopportune times, and under such conditions as to discourage them from ever resuming their studies."

EXAMINATIONS

While this debate was going on the state director of the Selective Service Act completed plans for establishing 50 to 60 examining centers to end the uncertainty over the physical examination of draftees. Numerous men have been approved for service by physicians of the local draft boards only to be rejected at the induction stations after they had quit their jobs or wound up their business affairs.

The new plan provides that examining centers will be located in hospitals wherever that is possible. The men will be examined by a board consisting of the draft board physician and physician volunteers. The examinations will be made to conform with army standards.

Local draft boards will also have dentists on their staffs from this point on to minimize difficulties in connection with dental defects. The Selective Service

Regulations on dental requirements are given below in their entirety for the information of members.

SELECTIVE SERVICE REGULATIONS DENTAL REQUIREMENTS

Paragraph

Classes 1-A and 1-B.....31

Class 4.....32

31. Classes 1-A and 1-B.

a. Class 1-A.—(1) Normal teeth and gums.

(2) A minimum of 3 serviceable masticating teeth above and 3 below opposing and 3 serviceable natural incisors above and 3 below opposing. (Therefore, the minimum requirements consist of a total of 6 masticating teeth and of 6 incisor teeth.) All of these teeth must be so opposed as to serve the purpose of incision and mastication.

(3) Definitions.

(a) The term "masticating teeth" includes molar and bicuspid teeth, and the term "incisors" includes incisor and cuspid teeth.

(b) A natural tooth which is carious (one with a cavity), which can be restored by filling, is to be considered as a serviceable natural tooth.

(c) Teeth which have been restored by crowns or dummies attached to bridgework, if well placed, will be considered as serviceable natural teeth when the history and the appearance of these teeth are such as clearly to warrant such assumption.

(d) A tooth is not to be considered a serviceable natural tooth when it is involved with excessively deep pyorrhea pockets, or when its root end is involved with a known infection that has not an evacuating sinus discharging through the mucous membrane or skin.

b. Class 1-B.—Insufficient teeth to qualify for class 1-A, if corrected by suitable dentures.

32. Class 4.—a. Irremediable disease of the gums of such severity as to interfere seriously with useful vocation in civil life.

b. Serious disease of the jaw which is not easily remediable and which is likely to incapacitate the registrant for satisfactory performance of general or limited military service.

c. Extensive focal infection with multiple periapical abscess, the correction of which would require protracted hospitalization and incapacity.

d. Extensive irremediable caries.

COMMISSIONS

In a report from the Dental Preparedness Committee of the American Dental Association, activity toward securing commissions for drafted dentists was indicated.

"On March 13," the report stated, "representatives of the Dental Preparedness Committee appeared before representatives of the Adjutant General of the United States Army and presented the case of dentistry with the request that the quota of dental officers be raised to 8,000 men. The results of this conference seemed to indicate that the request would not be granted, hence it becomes imperative that steps be taken to attempt to obtain our objectives by legislation."

The Dental Preparedness Committee asks that the Murray Bill to provide commissions for drafted dentists be supported by the membership of organized dentistry. The Murray Bill (S. 783) is now pending before the Senate Military Affairs Committee.

Practical Practice: In the treatment of Vincent's it is important to introduce the medicament below the free surface of the gums.

The same medicament does not have the same result on every patient. The medication and method of treatment must be varied.

Meticulous use of the toothbrush reduces the incidence of, but does not prevent caries.

It seems logical to presume that a proper diet will reduce the incidence of, even though it will not prevent caries.

In all compound cavities, a matrix is invariably necessary; the stronger and more rigid the matrix, the better the filling.

By all means, use some weighing or measuring device for alloy and mercury, so that plasticity is always the same. You cannot standardize a technic with a variable material.—J. Wis. D. Soc. (Sept.-Oct. 1940).

NEWS AND ANNOUNCEMENTS

MONTHLY MEETING IN BOULEVARD ROOM

The April Monthly Meeting of the Society will be held in the Boulevard Room instead of the room previously announced, on Tuesday, April 15. The Dinner Meeting will be held in the South Ball Room.

HOLD RESERVE OFFICERS' DINNER

The Army and Navy Dental Reserve Officers' Dinner will be held during the annual meeting of the Illinois State Dental Society, according to an announcement by Lieutenant Colonel Paul W. Clopper (DS), of Peoria. The dinner will be in the Vogue Room of the Pere Marquette Hotel, Peoria, on Wednesday evening, May 14, at 6:00 p.m. Prominent military officials will be in attendance. Reservations may be made at the Pere Marquette Hotel at the Information Desk. All members of the reserve corps are cordially invited to attend.

SOCIETY CATALOGS DENTAL MOTION PICTURE FILES

An effort is being made to compile a list of all motion pictures possessed by Society members on subjects associated with dentistry. If a member has a scientific or technical motion picture which he is willing to have shown at Society meetings he should notify the Central Office, STate 7925, and ask that an information blank be sent to him. The cooperation of all members owning such motion pictures is solicited.

PENALTY FOR DRAFT ACT VIOLATION

Extensive dental work may alter the status of those eligible for military service under the Selective Service Act. For this reason special attention should be given to the dental needs of draftees. Diagnosis should be carefully made and detailed records should be kept for the protection of the dentist in connection with any change in a draftee's classification.

The Selective Service Act provides that any person who knowingly aids or abets another to evade service in the armed forces shall upon conviction be imprisoned for not more than five years or pay a fine of not more than $10,000.00, or both.

STATE BACTERIOLOGISTS HOLD MEETING

The Society of Illinois Bacteriologists will hold a meeting on April 25 in the Board of Trade Building, 141 West Jackson Boulevard. Dinner will be served for $1.25 in the grill at 6:30 p.m. and the meeting will follow immediately. Reservations may be made with Dr. H. Close Heseltine, 5848 Drexel Avenue. Members of the Society interested in bacteriology are invited to attend.

The speakers on the program will be Ralph E. Noble, of the Chicago Department of Health, and Dr. Reuben L. Kahn, of the University of Michigan. Dr. Kahn's subject will be Recent Observations in the Serology of Syphilis.

TWO DENTAL BILLS IN STATE LEGISLATURE

Two bills of interest to dentists have recently been introduced in the state legislature. H. 12 proposes that persons who are not citizens of the United States shall not be given licenses to practice dentistry. H. 58 proposes that dentists shall be prohibited from operating more than one office unless they personally supervise the work of each office.

NEWS AND ANNOUNCEMENTS

DR. A. A. DUBIN'S LICENSE RESTORED

Judge Harry M. Fisher in Circuit Court on April 9 granted a writ of certiorari to Dr. A. A. Dubin, thus restoring Dr. Dubin's license to practice dentistry. It had been previously revoked by J. J. Hallihan, then director of the Department of Registration and Education, upon recommendation of the State Board of Dental Examiners. This is the second time that Judge Fisher has restored Dr. Dubin's license under similar circumstances.

The action was not unexpected and as a result the Attorney General has already filed a notice of appeal to the Supreme Court.

DENTAL ASSISTANTS HOLD TWO EVENTS

On next Thursday, April 17, the regular monthly meeting of the Chicago Dental Assistants' Association will be held at the Stevens Hotel. Dinner will be served at 6:30 p.m. in the Japanese Room. Dr. B. F. Andrews, president of the Borrowed Time Club, will be the speaker.

The annual spring card party of the Association will be held at the Chicago Women's Club, 72 East 11th Street, on Wednesday evening, April 23. Tickets may be secured from Ann Farher, 6760 Stony Island Avenue.—Grace A. Olsen, Secretary.

DR. D. W. ADAMS DIES ON APRIL 8

It is with extreme regret that the Society announces the death of Dr. D. W. Adams, past president of the Chicago Dental Society, on April 8. Dr. Adams died after an illness of several weeks in Grant Hospital.

Funeral services were held Friday, April 11, at the Sennes' chapel in Maywood with interment at Oak Ridge.

Dr. Adams is survived by his widow, Irene, and two sons, David G. Adams and Dr. Arthur G. Adams. The officers and members of the Society extend their deepest sympathies to the bereaved family.

INTERPROFESSIONAL GROUP FORMED FOR ILLINOIS

The Illinois Interprofessional Council of Medicine, Dentistry and Pharmacy has been organized to correlate the efforts of these three professions in the state of Illinois, according to an announcement issued by Dr. Stanley W. Clark, chairman of the Committee to Promote Closer Relations and Cooperate with the Illinois State Medical Society. It is anticipated that the state nurses and hospital organizations will join the group in the near future. This work is being done on the part of dentistry at the direction of the Illinois State Dental Society.

The Iowa Interprofessional Council will be the guest of the Iowa State Medical Society on May 15 in Davenport. The Iowa Council has issued an invitation to members of the Illinois Council to attend this meeting. Dentists interested in the organization are also cordially invited to attend.

Raymond B. Allen, M.D., executive dean of the Professional College of the University of Illinois, will be one of the speakers at the Davenport meeting of the Council. His subject will be The Need for Greater Interprofessional Cooperation in a Democracy.

Dr. Clark, who is secretary of the Illinois Interprofessional Council, states that the invitation to attend the Davenport meeting extends to all members of professional societies in the state.

EDITORIAL

UNANIMOUS BALLOT

For the third successive year the Secretary of the Chicago Dental Society will be instructed at the election meeting to cast a unanimous ballot for an unopposed slate of officers. This is an excellent indication that the membership is aware that it is moving in a time of crisis and that the only sound preparation against any contingency that may arise is a unified Society under capable leadership. With the election of the present group of officers there is every indication that the constructive policies initiated and carried on by President William I. McNeil and his predecessors will be continued. Thus the Society can direct all of its efforts toward the solution of its many problems rather than dissipate them in an unproductive and disturbing partisanship.

TRADE

The practice of medicine is a trade and, as such, comes within the jurisdiction of the Sherman Anti-Trust Act. This was the effective result of the decision given in the jury trial of the American Medical Association and medical officials for conspiracy to violate the anti-trust law.

It is likely that an appeal will be pressed to the highest court of the land if such action is necessary. Too many important elements in the progress of medical and other professional practice are at issue to allow the decision to go unchallenged. The influence of a permanently adverse decision on this score will have a profound influence upon professional organizations. The fact that the Sherman law can also be used in a punitive sense opens a further threat that should be met with prompt and vigorous action by all professional societies.

ON MAY 12

On May 12 in Peoria the annual meeting of the Illinois State Dental Society will be held. The program will be a thoroughly enjoyable one in both scientific and social matters. A large amount of practical dental problems will come under the discussion of experts. In addition, the time is May and May is spring. The membership is urged to avail itself of this opportunity in the interests of both personal and professional benefits.

DRAFTING DENTAL STUDENTS

It takes six years to make a dentist and considerably less than that time to make a battleship. This is Senator James E. Murray's succinct way of emphasizing the need for the conservation of dental and medical personnel in this time of emergency.

The population of the dental schools of the country has diminished materially in recent years until there is some question whether or not the annual graduating class is adequate to replace those lost to practice each year. New demands have been made upon dentists by the military program while the civilian need for service continues without diminution. In such a situation it would be reasonable to suppose that every effort would be made to conserve professional strength. It is found instead that national draft act officials contemplate a refusal to continue the deferment of dental students: that dentists are drafted without the commissions needed to practice their profession.

In the face of such a dubious program by national officials it is encouraging to know that state officials are recognizing and acting on the situation. It is to be hoped that federal enlightenment will follow as rapidly as possible.—Harold Hillenbrand.

NEWS OF THE BRANCHES

ENGLEWOOD

The Englewood Branch of the Chicago Dental Society was greatly honored by the selection of one of our members, Willis J. Bray, as president-elect of the Chicago Dental Society . . . Since May 13 is the last monthly meeting of our branch this season, a very good program is being planned and further details will be published later. A large number is expected to attend so it would be wise to get your reservations in early by calling John Lace, Pullman 4303 . . . It is with extreme regret that we learned of the sudden death of J. J. Collins on Thursday, March 27, at the age of fifty. Dr. Collins was a Major in the Dental Reserve Corps. He was one of the organizers of the Dental Unit during the World War and was in command at Camp Grant. He is survived by his widow. Funeral services were held on March 29. The officers and members of Englewood extend to the bereaved relatives their deepest sympathy . . . Emil L. Aison gave a lecture on diseases of the maxillary bone Wednesday, April 9, before the Medical Corps . . . John Manning is home from Camp Grant on a leave of absence. He states that it's comfortable out there and that they are becoming very well organized. He also said, "When a fellow's through at 4:30 p.m., he is through!" Don't we all wish we were, too? . . . Two of our members, Ben Jostes and John Mockus, had the misfortune of losing their fathers a short time ago. The officers and members of Englewood extend their deepest sympathy . . . I. H. Libman spent a few days vacationing in Wisconsin recently . . . Miles Gallagher and wife have been spending a pleasant vacation in Miami . . . The South Town Dental Study Club has been having some very intellectual programs of late. The members of Englewood are cordially invited to attend the meetings which are held every Thursday noon at the Englewood Y.M.C.A. . . . Paul Papsdorf is a busy man these days. In January he was elected president-elect of the surgical and medical staff of the Evangelical Hospital. On Friday, March 28, he conducted his annual lecture-clinic at the hospital. Besides taking care of a busy practice, he finds time to teach the nurses of the Evangelical Hospital and the students of the Chicago Medical School.—I. G. Oaf, Assistant Branch Correspondent.

KENWOOD-HYDE PARK

A card from Havana, Cuba, informs us that your scribe, Howard Strange and his wife are enjoying the sunshine. They are visiting with, and enjoying the hospitality of, a fellow orthodontist, Sergio Giquel and his wife. Cuban life and hospitality are too much for Howard, and he reports that he will be coming home early for a rest . . . Jim Lynch has just returned with a healthy tan acquired at Miami Beach. Jim, who likes to tour the country in cyclonic style, admits an average of 63 miles per hour driving time . . . Charley Cloes is also sporting a Florida tan and boasting the advantages of his new Nash "600." He and Mrs. Cloes along with another couple toured Florida all the way down to Key West and averaged over 24 miles per gallon of gas for the entire trip . . . E. Byron Kelly, Syl Cotter, and Ralph Libberton, along with Gail Hambleton and LaMar Harris are scheduled to present a clinic on April 16 before the Milwaukee Dental Society on Immediate Dentures Using Plastic Teeth. This will be a very complete demonstration with a patient . . . Neil Rogers and Cliff Randall appear physically reinvigorated after a sunny sojourn in Biloxi, Mississippi. Neil reports that Cliff is a great golfer, a grand fellow and takes his golf very seriously. In fact the entire purpose of the trip was to enable Cliff to get in some pre-season golf and to develop his stroke for the annual Kenwood tournament. Cliff's ambition is to shoot perfect golf and Neil says he is well on the way, scoring several birdies and eagles and a 79 on the last day. Neil shot his usual 100, not counting conceded putts . . . Captain Arnold Feldman is scheduled to leave very shortly for service in the Carolinas . . . Has anyone noticed Walt Dundon's eyes? Walt holds a reserve officer's commission in the Army and his friends are ribbing him about wearing dark glasses to evade the call. All kidding aside, though, Walt is suffering with a severe eye infection . . . Harry Hartley's wife recently returned from the hospital where she had undergone an operation . . . Have you heard Bob Pinkerton tell about his recent operation? If not, ask him about that lower first molar he had extracted . . . Plan now to attend the May meeting of Kenwood along with your lady friend. Mort has proved himself a very capable president so let's show our appreciation by attending en masse. Call Herb Dangremond now and let him know how many there will be in your party. The number is Beverly 0094.—Willard Johnson, Assistant Branch Correspondent.

WEST SUBURBAN

Our weekly meetings of the Round Table continue to be both interesting and instructive. We are indebted to C. E. Waterman for an instructive discussion of acrylic resins . . . Last week, the flags were flying and the West Suburbanites were casting their ballots while we listened to John B. LaDue lecture on the new posterior teeth which he has recently developed. The "Good Book" tells us to train a child in the way in which he should go and when he is old he will not depart therefrom. Jack follows this principle and proved the results of his years of study and research by showing us a practical case which had been in use without any adjustment since the dentures were inserted some three or four weeks ago. When dentures are constructed to conform to scientific principles which have been in force since the beginning of time, they will continue to function successfully from the first without those numerous adjustments. W. F. Foster and L. C. Borland were guests at the Round Table last week and C. C. Nugent and E. G. Walters were among the new members at our last monthly meeting. At our last meeting of the branch the following officers were elected for the coming year: Arno L. Brett, president-elect; Joseph F. Voita, vice-president; Paul W. Swanson, secretary; W. K. Frakes, treasurer; Edwin M. Moore, librarian. The retiring president, Bill Tolar, becomes the new member of the branch board of directors and Werner Gresens as president will direct the affairs of our branch . . . Reliable information from official sources sheds a ray of light in the dark corners of the laboratory situation. Our law enforcement bodies are not as inactive as some might think. They are awaiting a Supreme Court decision in the near future. Until then we are up against a stone wall. However, if you can do anything to hasten the action of that august body, we will all appreciate it. The public press informs us daily that skilled workmen are unable to secure employment without their union card. There would be a great many offices for rent if we were to operate likewise . . . We are already looking forward to a return visit from our speaker, Mr. James Robinson. At least half of our members were so busy in the office or with other more important affairs that they could not take time out to be present. It is small wonder that more patients don't have dental work done when the dentist himself has little or no enthusiasm. The stream will never rise higher than its source and as our speaker said, "a grave is the same as a rut only deeper." Anyone who does not double his knowledge every ten years cannot be successful. If the dentist will not improve his own knowledge, how can he educate his patient concerning the value of the service rendered? Frank Young has taken over the office of W. F. Foster . . . Paul Swanson has installed new equipment . . . Don Crook is back in his office after a siege of pneumonia . . . McDonald (Robert C.) has returned from Florida with his bride . . . William Vopata is breaking in a new Pontiac . . . Our local "plate factories" have more "brass" than the pins of their anterior teeth. One of them sent us a card good for $2.00 on the purchase of one of their $9.50 "masterpieces." "He who laughs last, laughs best," and it won't be long now.—Foster G. Robeson, Branch Correspondent.

NORTHWEST SIDE

If you open any of your mail besides what looks like a check, you will already have read that beautiful announcement regarding Old Timers' Night at the Northwest Side Branch. Corny is sitting at his phone every minute awaiting more reservations. According to reports the advance number of reservations is already beyond anything within memory of the branch. Waldo Link comes to bat with the news that the speaker of the evening is ideally suited to a program of entertainment that includes a punch bowl. If you have any ideas, therefore, of enhancing your dental knowledge by attending the next meeting, forget that thought right now. The officers feel that at least once a year the membership is entitled to an evening of relaxation and this will be it. Dan Klein can leave his everpresent notebook at home on this occasion . . . If any of our members missed that trip through a gold house and would like to make this trip tomorrow, April 16, in company with some men from the North Shore, call Central 6332. You won't regret having gone . . . Bob Placek is combining pleasure with pleasure on his coming trip. First he will stop at Hot Springs and oil up the golf stories for the coming year. Then he will trek over to Chattanooga where he will present a paper before the dental group there . . . By this time we are hoping that John McDonald will have recovered from either that trip to New Orleans or the flu so that he may be back at work where he belongs . . . A. H. Altern is another of those bitten by that pesky flu bug, but with issues so far apart most likely he will be a well man by the time this becomes type . . . Martin Juel is the proud papa these days. He married off a son this month. Wonder if he'll have to go flat hunting . . . The Square Table had the great pleasure of having present for lunch, Jim Robinson, occupation furnished upon request, who really gave as good a discussion sitting down as has ever been delivered by a man on his feet where the theoretical advantage is with the man standing up. You never can tell what may happen at the Square Table meetings so it's your loss if you don't get out . . . The travelers, D. D. Klein, H. Wenger, H. Neer and H. Boris, report a very fine meeting at Milwaukee. They came back full of pep and statistics proclaiming that it's always the forest that hides the trees . . . This Friday evening is the one social evening for the branch; a great collection of old timers, a real speaker and to make a three ring circus complete, the branch presents its slate of officers for the coming year to be elected and installed all at the same time. Now that Gus Johannes will have finished his duties for the year, he can resume that other great duty so necessary at the conclusion of every meeting—the job of being the fourth at bridge. Welcome back, Gus . . . This Friday is the important day, and you can still get dinner reservations by calling C. C. Lewandowski at Kildare 0653.—Ben Davidson, Branch Correspondent.

WEST SIDE

On Tuesday evening the West Side Branch held its final meeting of the current season. The induction of the new officers for the coming year took place at this meeting. Henry Melichar was the inducting officer and in the induction speech stressed the point of "love thy neighbor" so that harmony, good will, and good fellowship will prevail and flourish in the future as it has in the recent past. The following men were then inducted into office: Emory Lusk, president; Samuel Kleiman, vice-president; Joseph Porto, secretary; George Frost, treasurer; James DeBiase, librarian, and Eli Olech, director to the Branch for three years . . . Dr. Howard M. Majerison, dean of the College of Dentistry, University of Illinois, was the speaker of the evening. He drew a picture of dental education with clean broad strokes showing the essential growth and salient features of the past twenty-five years in dental education. He pointed out concisely the facts that not only were the technical phases of dental education undergoing a progressive change but also the basic and allied sciences, the resultant dental product being not only a better dentist, technically, but also a better dentist, thinking in a more correct manner through the whole scope of dentistry. Hence, we are now able to break the artificial barriers between us and other sciences . . . The evening was filled with entertainment and hilarity. Music was furnished by two very talented young ladies and later in the evening the members and guests had much good natured fun poked at them by a Swedish Hindu mystic . . . D. W. McEwen was down for a few days with the "flu" but he is back on the job now . . . A baby boy came to the De Biase's. Congratulations! Oh, Jimmy, cigars are in order! . . . Emory Lusk "popped" for all those at the meeting. You were not there. You missed it . . . Two plaques were given, one to Samuel Rakow and the other to Eli Olech in appreciation for their work during their term of office.—Gerard J. Casey, Branch Correspondent.

NORTH SIDE

On the night of April 7, the North Side Branch wound up the 1940-41 season with Clinic Night at the Edgewater Peach Hotel. The fifteen clinicians who took part were Sylvester D. Green, E. A. Rubin, R. C. Rudder, C. E. Waterman, George A. Hoskins, Alexis W. Maier, George E. Orsech, W. A. Link, Jerome L. Wilher, F. E. Grover, A. H.

Tamarin, E. I. Baum, Alfred T. King, Dave Phillips and R. W. Swanson. Before the clinics but after a very interesting sound motion picture on baseball a short business session was held during which the nominating committee made its report and the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: Fred Haberle, president; Julius Ferm, vice-president; Paul Salisbury, secretary; Maurice S. Altus, treasurer; William P. Schoen, Jr., librarian; Harry Denen, director . . . Bill Redlich, our Clinic Chairman, was conspicuously absent. He was confined to the hospital with a "strep" throat. However, Paul Thorelius showed up. One member insisted it was the first time in six years . . . Master Lee Roger Hoffman lives in an incubator and weighs 4 pounds, 13 ounces. He was born April 4 and his father A. F. Hoffman says he is getting along fine . . . Arthur Bean who has been hospitalized for some time is reported improving rapidly . . . Although Walter Nock's Buick is a brand new 1941 model, observers have noticed that it is already full of "Nocks." You see Walt has three small sons . . . Miss Mary Ellen Schoemaker, of Indianapolis, became the bride on March 8 of E. O. Benson. The ceremony was performed at the Memorial Chapel at Northwestern University and several North Side and North Suburban Branch members were reported present . . . Nils Tuveson came back early this month from a two weeks' trip to Florida, where he called on Carl Lindstrom, former member of this Branch and visited his pecan orchard . . . Major Rudy Friedrich has closed up his office in preparation before going to Carolina some time this week for active duty with the Army . . . A card from C. Lee Simons tells how he has been taking the annual pilgrimage to ante bellum homes and southern estates in Natchez, Mississippi . . . G. W. Haley has been farther from home. He got back March 27 from a 6 weeks' trip to Australia . . . Julius Ferm is now settled in his new home in Edgerton Wisconsin, near Madison. Anyway you can find him there week-ends and Wednesdays. O. W. Silberhorn returns this week from Nashville, Tennessee, where he read two papers before the Fifth District Dental Society there . . . Paul Edmand was on the program of the Fox River Valley Society this month . . . The bowling season is about over. For the next issue we have been promised the results of the league competition and we will print the names of the top bowlers of our branch. Don't miss it!—Arthur A. Gilbert, Branch Correspondent.

NORTH SUBURBAN

"There'll be some changes made" is the title of a song, popular at the moment, in Evanston's Carlson Building. Charlie Baker started all the rum-pus when he moved from the seventh to the fifth. The Wescott-Chason duo promptly took over the vacated space. Corvin Stine then got the urge and moved into the Westcott-Chason suite thereby making it possible for a rank outsider, Harry Chronquist, to move into the building from his north-end office . . . Marjorie Scholes is also a newcomer to the Carlson Building. Dr. Scholes graduated from the University of Illinois, College of Dentistry, in 1919 and practiced for a number of years at 800 Davis Street . . . Jim Pearce is the proud father of a son born on February 21 . . . Otto Brasmer is one of thirty-four prominent business and professional men who acted as advisors to the students at the Annual Conference of Jobs and Careers at the Evanston High School recently . . . John C. McGuire is back from a trip down through the Smokies. Oh, for the life of an ——— but why go into that all over again! . . . Leonard McEvoy, our Winnetka correspondent, is sailing the fair waters of the Caribbean. He will visit Guatemala and thence home by way of Havana. Leonard probably figures that after he's in the army there'll be no such freedom! . . . Your correspondent, accompanied by Pete Mundell, paid a visit to the Lake County meeting last Monday evening at the Karcher Hotel in Waukegan. The entire dental staff of the Great Lakes Naval Training Station was on hand to hear Dr. Joseph Schaefer give his illustrated talk on Lesions of the Mouth. Dr. Schaefer covered the whole subject in a very interesting way and was roundly applauded at the conclusion. The May meeting of the Lake County Dental Society will be held at the Countryside Golf Club in Mundelein on May 3.

This will be Ladies' Night and Larry Hill promises both good food and good entertainment . . . The April meeting of the Branch was held last Tuesday evening at the Orrington Hotel in Evanston. The newly elected officers were appropriately installed by the retiring (?) president, R. B. "Pete" Mundell. Pete isn't exactly retiring as he is taking over the job of Director to the Chicago Dental Society. L. V. Stephenson was vacationing in Florida but the other officers were present in person. J. Mackey, of Waukegan, is the new vice-president; Eddie Baumann, of Arlington Heights, secretary, and W. R. Waxler of Winnetka, treasurer. This seems to be a fitting time to extol the virtues of one Godfrey Schroeder. Jeff, as for some mysterious reason he is nicknamed, hasn't indulged in what might be called forensics during these past three years. However, from conversations with his confreres on the Board, one learns that he has ever exercised good judgment and always has had the interests of his profession at heart. When one has earned the commendation of a whole group, as Jeff has done, he really has something on the ball. Three members of the Branch were awarded gold medals for the distinction of having been in the practice of dentistry for 50 years. C. S. Bigelow, Don M. Gallie, Sr., and W. E. Schwind were the three gentlemen thus to be honored. G. R. Lundquist and Maynard Hines were the essayists of the evening and left nothing to be desired in their forthright discussion of Periodontal Disturbances.—James H. Keith, Branch Correspondent.

Teeth and Army Requirements: Failure to meet the dental requirements stands out as the most important cause for rejection. Of the total number rejected during this period, that is, out of 2,195, there were 516 rejections due to teeth, more than 23 per cent of the total number rejected. A minimum number of serviceable teeth have been set down as the requirements and it was amazing to find how many young men who have attended our public educational institutions failed to come up to these minimum requirements. It is well known that the condition of the teeth is a fairly reliable criterion on the general health and habits of young men.

The requirements for teeth as set forth by Army Regulations are "a minimum of three serviceable natural masticating teeth above and three below opposing and three serviceable natural incisors above and three below opposing." Therefore the minimum requirements consist of a total of six masticating teeth and six incisor teeth. All these teeth must be so opposed as to serve the purpose of incision and mastication. Masticating teeth include molar and bicuspid teeth, incisors include incisor and cuspid teeth. Teeth which are involved with severe caries are not to be considered serviceable.—Leone, G. E. Causes for Rejection for Entrance into The Regular Army Due to Physical Defect.—J.A.M.A. 115:1283 (Oct. 12) 1940.

MINIMIZE THE DREAD OF PAIN WITH COOK OR
WAITE LOCAL ANESTHETICS

POSTPONEMENT of needed work through fear of pain often reflects the patient's past experience in the dental chair—a problem that is being disposed of by more and more dentists through effective pain-control.

In extractions, sensitive cavity-preparations and minor oral surgery, Novocain with Cobefrin—either Cook or Waite—provides effective anesthesia and is generally well-tolerated. The same dependable action, with more profound, more lasting anesthesia is available with Novocain - Pontocaine - Cobefrin, the new Waite formula.

If you are not using either or both of these preparations, select one for the next "timid" case—and judge for yourself.

Order 200 Cook or Waite cartridges or ampules, any formula. Send us the box tops to obtain your FREE copy of a profusely illustrated MANUAL of injection technique.
